RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Field and Laboratory Experience on the North American Plains:
Historical and Social Landscapes of the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem	2005-Present
Principal Investigator and Co-Director. Exploring archaeological landscapes in northern Wyoming and southern Montana, including comparative research at Bighorn National Canyon Recreation Area, Shoshone National Forest, Bridger-Teton National Forest, and Red Canyon Ranch. Survey, mapping, excavation, feature recording, GIS, geophysical, faunal, taphonomic, and geochemical analyses. Collaborative research with Indiana University, Northwest College, University of Memphis, and Little Big Horn College. NSF Award #0714926 (2006-2010) plus other funding.
Plains Village and Hunting Camps Faunal Analysis	2001-Present
Director. Analyzing fauna from Upper Republican phase and Great Bend aspect Plains villages in Colorado and Kansas with trained students from three universities. Excavation at Upper Republican farmstead at Medicine Creek in Nebraska.
Donovan Site Faunal Analysis	1996-2005
Director. Coordinated, organized, and designed project for 50 undergraduates in processing and analyzing artifacts at UC-Berkeley, UC-Santa Cruz, and Indiana University. Directed archaeological fieldwork in Wyoming and Colorado.
High Plains Archaeology Project	1989-1999
Field Director, Crew Chief, Educational Instructor, Lab Manager, and Research

Associate. Survey, excavation, lab analysis of dozens of prehistoric and historic stratified sites in Wyoming, Colorado, and Nebraska, specializing in in-situ artifact excavation/mapping and feature recording.

Wind River Indian Reservation Cultural Resources Protection Program 1995-1997
Surveyed, mapped and recorded archaeological features.

Other Historic Sites 1989-1994
Fort Laramie National Historic Site, Wyoming; remote sensing.
Historic District of South Pass City, Wyoming; excavation and mapping.
Wyoming Territorial Prison, Laramie, Wyoming; excavation and mapping.

Field and Laboratory Experience Outside the United States:

Ground Sloth Biogeography Project 2007-Present
Investigator. Summarizing recent discovery of extinct ground sloths from flooded cavern in the Dominican Republic. Describing specimens for publication. Working with specialists conducting radiocarbon and DNA studies for biogeography project.

Midi-Pyrénées, France June 1996, June 1998
Regional Open-Air Survey in the French Midi-Pyrénées
NSF Award #9600901, PI: Margaret W. Conkey

Puerto Escondido, Honduras June 1997
Social Dynamics of Early Formative Honduras: Excavations at Puerto Escondido (CR-372), Lower Ulua River Valley
NSF Award #9819550, PI: Rosemary A. Joyce

Museum Experience

William R. Adams Zooarchaeology Laboratory, Indiana University 2002-Present
Director. Curate faunal comparative collection. Organize cataloguing and processing of mammals, birds, fish, and reptiles. Supervising dozens of student interns and Graduate Work Study. NSF Award #08946697 (2010-12). www.indiana.edu/~zooarch.html

Phoebe Hearst Museum of Anthropology, University of California 1997-2001
Graduate Student Researcher/Museum Scientist. Prepared Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act Inventories and Osteological Reports. Conducted archival research; evaluated, curated, and re-housed museum objects; consulted with Native American tribal representatives.

Examples of Inventories Compiled:

Inventories of Culturally Unidentifiable Human Remains and Associated Funerary Objects from the American Southwest (2000).

Inventories of Culturally Unidentifiable Human Remains and Associated Funerary Objects from Alaska (1999).

High Plains Archaeology Field Lab and Museum 1991-1999
Museum Director, Educational Instructor, Lab Manager. Designed and built interpretive displays, conducted tours, developed educational workshops using museum materials.

Department of Anthropology, University of Wyoming

1993-1995

Director. Prepared Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act Inventories, North America.

Example of Inventory Compiled:

Inventories of Native American Human Remains and Associated Funerary Objects from Lands Managed by either the Bureau of Land Management Bureau of Reclamation, or Forest Service, or Recovered from the Wind River Indian Reservation, in the Possession or Control of the University of Wyoming Archaeological Repository that are Considered to be Culturally Unidentifiable (1995).
